

WhitePubs July 2017 Newsletter

My rescue cat Sir Thomas – who now sleeps with me – if he feels like it – and who has decided my bed is his – has become a cuddle bug and a character. We all agree – I need a bigger bed! He has a ton of personality. Here he is demanding pets and food. He loves pets. He's gained weight (now 19 pounds) because I wasn't sure how much to feed him. He is now on a diet, which has led to some interesting demands on his part. We may need a chaperone soon.

She's Buried Alive - He's a Vampire Awakened - Something Evil This Way Comes

Sharon has been kidnapped, buried alive, and rescued by a bumbling yet sexy vampire, all in one night. Now, thanks to Jonas, she's being threatened by every unmated vampire within range of San Francisco. Why can't she drink her Café Mocha anymore?

Jonas left home decades ago without completing his training. He is helpless in the face of this evil. She's in trouble, and he needs to save her or live alone forever. He just isn't sure how.

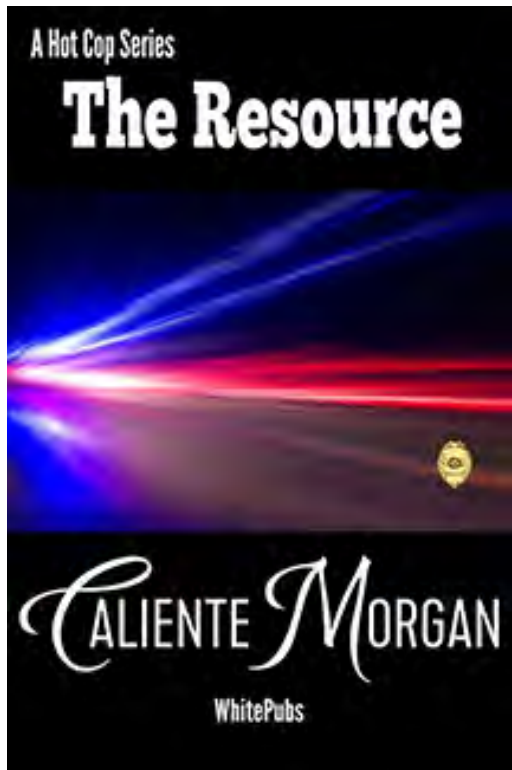

Something else does.

If you like a little mystery and a little humor with your contemporary romance, then you'll love Night Hunter!

Buy Night Hunter to follow their fun if bumbling adventure today!

Hot off the Press - Number Two

Career Cop Hot Woman Deadly Secret

Jared was a career cop. Savannah was living a secret life, as a protected asset. Then the handsome officer arrived on her doorstep.

She broke cover during a robbery in a desperate attempt to save his life. Everything he thought he knew about her is a lie.

Within days, the media coverage has led to old enemies resurfacing. To live, she needs to sever ties and disappear. Again.

*Could she walk away and leave him behind?
Would he risk it all and go with her?*

The Resource is the seventh book in the Hot Cop series from Caliente Morgan. If you like a little mystery and a little action with your contemporary romance, then you'll love The Resource.

Current WIP

Sometimes all your plans go awry and a compelling story beats you over the head until you sit down and type it. So here comes Eight Weeks, a very sexy Hot Cop book, that is very close to completion.

Turns out – I wrote 11K words, then fell over a story starter of 6K words written earlier (heroine's name was the same). The two stories dovetailed! So I went forward... OK – the Gods have decided this story will be done.

Playing with a very early stage ad:

What I've Been Doing

Classes, classes, classes. A writer must constantly learn. And update. And improve.

I took a class in going beyond Amazon, and now I have opened accounts on Barnes & Noble, iTunes, and Kobo. I even have four books ready to go...

My Amaryllis have all passed. (Except yesterday I found a new stalk!) and it is time for the African Lilies. Pink lady here. Visible outside the kitchen window.

Pause and look at flowers everyday.

Picked out a Landscaper – need to pull that trigger. Time for a garden in the backyard!

He's coming Monday with the written estimate. Under $10K.

If it holds – on budget. This is a BIG yard. Two levels. And the bobcat will be ramped into the upper level.

- I released Night Hunter – A $0.99 steal about a vampire who is a bit unskilled, a kidnapped working girl who loves her Starbuck's, and what happens when fate and their passion collides.
- Haunt Me is a freebee for Newsletter set up. (MailChimp?) I am still on the learning curve for the mail services and the ads to drive them. (Another Class.) More later.
- Italian Vampire getting ready for a heavy-duty edit pass
- Website updates – several sites
- New software – OS and applications
- New driveway! New sidewalks! New Garage Door coming!

What I'm Reading/Studying

I was in two classes last month:

- WordPress 101 – I prefer Rapid Weaver (for the Mac)
- Beyond Amazon – how to upload books to all those others in the “big 4”

This month I took a month-long editing class while working on the Italian Vampire – with Angela James – Nice Mommy – Evil Editor. B4 You Hit Send - a month long workshop. Now I have 280 lecture pages to study.

This is on top of the hardware and software update shenanigans. Oh yes, and petting the cat. Both of them.

Summer editing my work

Current Projects – I keep promising myself

Captain's Bride is under Edit Review and should be released in July. This is the 5th book in the Regency Historical Romance Series. Another flower from my Christmas bulbs. Second-chance romance.

The POD (print) version of Badge Boys is almost complete. Just touching up the cover. Next will be making sure all the steps are checked off for submission to CreateSpace. The eBook is already released on Amazon.

Badge Boys, Whatcha gonna do when she comes for you?*

Twin hot cops, one hot woman

Can they blend into a family in spite of:

Fierce jealousy, a shooting, a car crash, and a three year old?

When shots are fired, Elizabeth Ann Burnside, Annie, rescues a fallen officer. SDPD sergeants Ivan and Troy Hardwick arrive to take over. While Troy tends to the fallen officer, his identical twin Ivan tends to the wounded Annie. Within days, Ivan appoints himself her protector and becomes her lover.

But Troy wants her too. And while Annie considers the idea of bedding both them, they discover that Annie can do something no one else can do. She can tell them apart.

Two of them? Could she do this?

While she works to discover that yes, she wants them both, flashes of jealousy erupt between the twins and threaten to destroy everything.

When Annie disappears returning from a road trip, the two men must pull themselves together. Can they bury the competitive issues that fuel their jealousy to save the woman they both love?
